Imagine - You start your day with a cup of coffee and the daily news. You open the paper to find headlines of race riots and lynching. However, this isn't shocking to you at all. You have no reaction- as this is just another day in America.

This map shows real headlines from news media documenting race riots and mob violence. Notice how language is twisted by the news to intentionally make readers antagonize black people and victimize white people. The articles are numerous, spanning years and continuing today. Is this news to you? Or is it just another day in America?
